BRAINERD ELKS LODGE TO PICNIC EARLY IN AUGUST

GIVEN BEFORE MEN GO TO THE FRONT

Local Entertainment Committee Includes W. V. Turcotte, B. L. Lagerquist and Al Mraz

Are Empowered to Appoint Sub-Committees, Range and Other Points to be Well Represented

Brainerd Lodge of Elks will picnic at Mille Lacs lake the latter part of August, it was decided at last night's meeting.

This will occur before many of the Elks will leave for the front to serve their country and the picnic will be in the nature of a fraternization with and farewell for the boys.

The local entertainment committee includes W. V. Turcotte, B. L. Lagerquist and Al Mraz. They have been empowered to appoint the needed sub-committees and will see that all the range and every other station of Elkdom in the Brainerd jurisdiction is represented.

Coffee and lemonade will be served by the committee. The large proportion of the members have cars and the picnic will equal as a success the many other social entertainments given by Brainerd No. 615.

NEEDS SHIPS IN ATLANTIC TRADE

Board May Commandeer All American Tonnage.

WILL FORCE JAPAN TO HELP

President Wilson issues an Order Which Has Effect of Cutting Off Steel Exports to Far East Unless Japanese Vessels Are Diverted to War Uses.

Washington, Aug. 3.—The imperative need of ships in the transatlantic service was disclosed in indications that the shipping board is preparing to commandeer all American tonnage and an order issued by President Wilson which has the effect of cutting off steel exports to Japan unless Japanese vessels are diverted to war uses.

The shipping board, probably within a few days, will requisition ships under authority recently given to the president by congress and probably will turn the vessels back to their owners for actual operation.

The government, it is said, has no desire to operate the vessels itself, but through control of charters can direct trade routes and at the same time lower ocean freight rates.

Coastwise tonnage and vessels taken off South American runs to be put to carrying supplies to Europe probably will be replaced in large part by neutral ships. Both Norway and Holland are ready to release a large amount of tonnage for allied use in return for food shipments.

A resolution pending in congress, drawn by administration officials, would permit vessels of foreign registry to ply between American ports.

Joint Control Is Planned.

The British and American governments have about reached an agreement for a joint control of all the world's tonnage and the shipping board's move toward commandeering is a preliminary step in that arrangement.

Under the plan the United States would operate most of the neutral tonnage and Great Britain would control allied ships. The arrangement would be used also to bring down freight rates.

Great Britain, it was learned, is about to recall British ships put at the disposal of her allies. Continued sinkings are said to have made it necessary that every British vessel be used in supplying the British people and armies.

The president's instructions, which will bring Japanese ships into the Atlantic, were issued to the division of export licenses and provide that no steel or iron products shall go to allied countries unless they are to be used for actual war purposes or will contribute directly to prosecution of the war.

Japan has been a large buyer of American ship plates and has been building up a great merchant fleet. About 4 per cent of her tonnage is in the Atlantic and the remainder is carrying Pacific cargoes at extremely high rates.

Fried hominy is very nice around a dish of fried chicken or roast game, and instead of slicing it may be cut into fancy shapes with a cookie cutter.

Crosby's militia armory will be informally dedicated this evening by a big ball and the funds realized will go to the boys from the Cuyuna range now in Uncle Sam's service.

Among the fleet of Brainerd cars to make the trip this evening are Representative Hilding A. Swanson, Carl Wright, George W. Grewe, Joe Midgley, John Mahlum, Dr. Harry Murphy, B. E. Dunham, John Bye, Bert Dunn, G. S. Swanson and others.

If a crowd shows up at the American Cafe the bus will leave for Crosby at 8 in the evening.

Representative Swanson has a number of tickets, sent him by the Crosby committee for disposal. Buy from him so he can make a good report to Crosby headquarters.

In a fine spirit of cooperation and courtesy, John Mahlum, manager of Lum park, has announced the Friday night regular dance at Lum park will not be held this week because of the armory dance at Crosby.

Crosby has always been very good in attending Brainerd ball games, Brainerd circuses and other entertainments and Brainerd should reciprocate by going to the armory dance tonight.

WILSON THE MAN SECURES RESULTS

Although Many Think of Him as Wilson the Executive.

PUBLIC OPINION THE GUIDE

Congress Is Forced to Obey the Will of the Great Majority of Men and Women—Many Efforts Made to Stop All Kinds of Waste, but in Time of War They Are of Little Avail.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, July 26.—[Special.]—Is it the man or the office that is popular throughout the country? Is it Woodrow Wilson or the president of the United States that commands the support of the people and through them secures legislation which the pressure of public opinion forces congress to enact?

Any one familiar with the situation knows that if left alone congress would not pass or would greatly amend most of the measures that have been presented and which confer such extraordinary power upon the president. And the president has been able to secure this legislation because the people are believed to be behind him.

The Man or the Office?

But whether it is the personal popularity of Woodrow Wilson or the belief of the people that the president must be right and therefore supported is an undetermined question. There are differences of opinion even among Democrats, but a majority of them admit that it is Woodrow Wilson the man.

"In the congressional campaign next year," said one of the prominent leaders, "we will show the Republicans that we can depend upon Wilson's personal popularity for success. Our slogan will be 'Stand by Wilson,' and we will win."

Stop the Waste.

Every newspaper correspondent is bombarded with literature from the government departments about methods to stop the waste and extravagance in all lines. It would appear that there is scarcely a line of industry that is free from great waste, and a government official tells us about it.

If all these writers would combine and help stop the waste in the government it might help. The late Senator Aldrich said we spent $300,000,000 more than necessary each year. That was in time of peace. The amount is trebled in time of war.

The Minds of Men.

"When a man begins to advocate a thing and makes a fetish of a fact of it he allows it to disturb his vision to the extent that he takes no note of actual facts." Thus said philosopher John Sharp Williams against the liquor provision in the food bill. "It is true of all controversies when men get worked up. Somebody will contend that there is a millennium in the thing, and somebody will contend that there is a hell in it, and they are both perhaps equally sincere and both nearly equally wrong."

How to Get Money.

The raising of money for the war has been for a long time disturbing the minds of senators. It became more serious when the Smoot amendment went into the liquor provision of the food control bill. Senator Thomas of Colorado was asked if he had a solution. "Tax senatorial oratory at a cent a word," was his reply. "We talk too much. I can criticize for I am one of the talkers."

Differing About Adjournment.

"I think the country would be better off if congress adjourned," remarked Minority Leader Mann.

"It would not," promptly declared Chairman Fitzgerald of the appropriations committee. "I have so much confidence in the congress that I am much confidence in the congress that I am much more content to have it in session than to delegate all the powers of the government to the executive department of the government and adjourn."

"That is all we are doing while we are here—delegating more power to the executive department," remarked Mann. "That is true," replied Fitzgerald "but we are here and can watch many things so that they will not happen when they otherwise might happen."

Records For Home Use.

Congressman Taylor of Colorado has started a movement intended to secure a record of all soldiers who serve in this war, to be kept in the county from which they enlist or are drafted. It was pointed out in the house that the war department keeps these records, but Congressman Taylor said that there ought to be a record in each county of all the men who enlist because the mothers and fathers of the boys have a great deal of interest in them and want to know where they are and what becomes of them.

Under present circumstances it will be difficult to keep track of the location of men who enlist, for we do not know where the troops will be stationed once they leave these shores for Europe.

MANY NEW ARMY HOSPITALS

Work of Construction Is Begun on Thirty-two.

Washington, Aug. 3.—Construction of thirty-two hospitals has been started.

There will be nearly 400,000 men in the guard camps and 500,000 in the national army cantonments, or an army of nearly 1,000,000 men, exclusive of the regular army.

The hospital at Fort Snelling will probably be enlarged. Hospital provision will be made at all training camps and cantonments for 3 per cent of the troops.

BLOW AT ALIEN SLACKERS

House Immigration Committee Prepares Drastic Bill.

Washington, Aug. 3.—Drastic dealing with alien slackers is proposed by a bill agreed on by the house immigration committee.

Alien slackers who do not wish to take military service in the American service would be deported and the entry of others to the country would be prohibited.

Any person who claims exemption from military duty on the ground that he is an alien never could become a naturalized citizen.

British Lieutenant Colonel Dies.

London, Aug. 3.—Lieutenant Colonel Albert Edward Paget died Thursday in London, whence he was removed from a hospital in France, where he had been sick for some months. He was born in 1879. He was the son of General Sir Arthur Henry Paget.

Militia Must Go South.

Washington, Aug. 3.—Secretary of War Baker has turned down the request of the governors of Minnesota and Wisconsin that the national guard troops of their states be trained in the extreme south at the height of midsummer.

WOULD JOLLY UP LONDON

Daily Mail Pleads for Parade of American Troops.

London, Aug. 3.—The Daily Mail pleads that American troops be given an opportunity to be seen in London before going to France.

It says: "London needs a heartening spectacle as well as an opportunity to express its enthusiasm."

It declares a column of American regulars through the streets of the metropolis would have a rousing reception.

KORNILOFF BECOMES HEAD OF RUSS ARMY

Petrograd, Aug. 3.—General Alexis A. Brusiloff, commander-in-chief of the Russian armies, has resigned. General L. G. Korniloff, commander-in-chief of the Russian armies on the Southwestern front, has been appointed generalissimo.

General Tcheremissoff, commander of the Eighth army, has been appointed to succeed General Korniloff on the Southwestern front.

Foreign Minister Terestchenko has sent a circular to the allies declaring it was necessary to take steps to restore the combative strength of the armies. The government, he said, will not be deterred by any difficulties regarding the prosecution of the war to a final triumph.

The reorganized and regenerated armies, he said, will at the appointed hour resume their onward march to victory.

Riga Commander Quits.

Petrograd, Aug. 3.—General Radko Dimitrieff, commander of the Russian troops on the Riga front, has resigned his command of the Twelfth army. General Parsky will succeed him. General Dimitrieff, who is a Bulgarian, at the beginning of the war represented his country as minister to Russia.

Tomatoes For Seed.

Many persons save the first tomato that ripens for seed, and they think they are doing the right thing. The very earliest tomatoes to ripen are not as sweet and solid as those ripening from a week to two weeks later. The best plan in saving the tomato for seed is to select the more uniform, medium size, which ripen evenly and quickly a little while after the plant has been producing ripe fruit. Seeds saved from tomatoes grown on moderately thin soil will retain the good qualities better than those saved from plants which were forced by very rich soil.—Philadelphia North American.

Pay of Surgeon in Ancient Times.

High honorariums were paid surgeons in ancient times. When Darius, the son of Hystaspes, sprained his foot Damocedes was called in, another surgeon of renown having failed to effect a cure. Damocedes was successful, and the king introduced the doctor to the ladies of the court. The ladies filled a vase of gold with money and precious pearls, which a slave was ordered to carry to the doctor.

WOMAN'S REALM

FRUIT JUICES IN JELLY MAKING

Juices Can be Kept Without Sugar, Enables Housewife to Distribute Purchases of Sugar

NEW FRUIT COMBINATIONS

Process Described Minutely, Juices of Strawberries, Cherries, Pine-apples Utilized

(U. S. Department of Agriculture)

Fruit juices for use later in jelly making can be sterilized and bottled without sugar and made into jellies at the housewife's convenience. This enables her to do with fewer jelly glasses and to distribute her purchases of sugar for jelly making through the year. Moreover, with the bottled juice she can make a greater variety of jellies, as juices which will not jell can be put up when the fruit is ripe and combined later with fruits that will jell, or fruits ripening at different seasons can be combined. For example, the juice of strawberries, cherries, or pineapple can be kept without sugar and later when apples are plentiful can be made into combination jelly.

From the unsugared sterilized juices of currants, apples, crabapples, and grapes, kept from 9 to 18 months, the Bureau of Chemistry, United States Department of Agriculture, recently made jellies of excellent texture, flavor and color.

To put up unsugared fruit juices for jelly making, proceed exactly as if jelly were to be made at the time. Cook the fruits until they are soft and strain out the juice through a flannel bag. Heat and pour while hot into bottles previously scalded. Fill the bottles full, leaving no air space between juice and cork or seal. Place the filled sealed bottles on their sides in water near the boiling point, and keep them in the bath for about 30 minutes. Make sure that the corked or sealed end is under the hot water. As soon as the bottles are cool, cover the cork with a paraffin seal. Thorough sterilization and sealing are absolutely essential to success.

To make jelly from the sterilized juice, test its jelling quality, add the proper amount of sugar, and proceed as in making jelly from freshly expressed juice.

"FLORA BELLA"

At the Park Opera House Wednesday, August 15, Charming Musical Success

Miss Eleanor Henry, who sings the title role in John Cora's production of this season's most striking musical success, "Flora Bella," which will be the attraction at the Park Opera House Wednesday, August 15, has been heard in many delightful musical productions, but it is safe to say she never had a role that fitted her more neatly than does that of the Russian princess Manja in this charming play.

In the story Princess Manja returns to her old stage life, for one night only, to win the love of her husband. It is a unique idea, and Miss Henry's splendid portrayal of the character is the merit of long and careful training. The authority of this artist's rendition is the standard to which the other members of the excellent company conform.

Others in the cast will be Lily Leonard, Guy J. Sampson, Irving Brooks, Robt. O'Connor, Josephine Kirkwood, Mortimer H. Weldon, Kate Stout, Adolph Link, Gilbert Clayton, the famous dancing team of Grant and Wing, and the famous Casino theatre beauty chorus.

Wilfred Lucas in "Hands Up!"

"Hands Up!" the new Triangle play, starring Wilfred Lucas, which will be exhibited at the Best theatre tomorrow, is an exciting story along new lines.

Lucas appears as a railroad president, who years before had been a notorious outlaw. With his daughter he is making a tour of inspection over the railway system when their train is held up by bandits, the leader of whom is bewitched by the president's pretty daughter. She is thrilled by the exciting situation and insists upon exchanging rings with him. Later they meet in New York and plan elopement. The complications that ensue bring the railroad president back to the companions of his earlier days. But this time he defies them with their own trade term, "Hands Up."

Monte Blue has the role of the young robber, and with Colleen Moore, as the president's daughter, he performs a spectacular riding stunt during the scene of elopement.

At The Best

Hilary Kenyon, a winsome maid, killed a man who sought to betray her and was therefore sentenced to serve a long prison term. While on her way to the penitentiary she met Ramsey Latham, an honest bank cashier, who was made to serve imprisonment in place of the bank president who committed suicide when he was discovered that he had embezzled the bank's account.

After serving five years in prison, Ramsey, on account of his good behavior, is put on a ranch under parole. While on his way there he meets Hilary who is much depressed because of the shadow that hangs over her life. After exchanging confidences and sorrows experienced, Hilary and Ramsey marry.

All goes well until a cell-mate of Ramsey's, Arthur Converse, eager to secure a reward offered for the conviction of parole violators, tries once more to put Ramsey behind the bars, for according to the State's law, prisoners under parole are forbidden to marry. However, Converse's plans are frustrated through the efforts of the kind sheriff who induces the Governor to pardon Ramsey.

If this photodrama imbues us with the desire to uplift instead of oppress those unfortunate enough to have been in prison, whether guilty or not, it can be considered as preaching that will aid to make this a better world for all.

Shirley Mason has the lead in this picture and with the assistance of an all-star cast has made this photodrama one of decided distinction.

"Light in Darkness" will be shown at the Best Theatre today.

A Cook's Accidental Discovery.

One of the best ways of cooking potatoes was accidentally discovered through the unpunctuality of a train. When the line from Paris to St. Germain was opened the first train carried an official party for whom lunch was ordered. The meal was fixed for noon, and shortly before that hour the potatoes were put on to fry. A few minutes afterward a message came that the train would probably be delayed for an hour, so the potatoes were taken off the fire, but left in the pan. Then came a second message, "Train just arriving," and the potatoes were hurriedly put back to fry again. When the party sat down to lunch the potatoes were brought on with the steak. Each chip was then found to be blown out like a small, crisp, golden balloon, to the delight of the guests. The cook without knowing it had invented pommes de terre souffles.

American Housewives Should Dry Fruits and all Vegetables

(Second of a series of 8 articles outlining Uncle Sam's short-course in food-drying as a war conservation method.)

BY GEORGE MARTIN
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)
Washington, August 2—It is important that you read this article carefully because in it Uncle Sam tells you how to avoid failure and disappointment in your war conservation food drying.

There are three ways to dry fruits and vegetables: sun drying, drying by artificial heat and drying by air blast. You may combine all three. To be dried quickly and properly all fruits and vegetables must first be cut into slices or shredded because they are either too large to dry quickly or are covered with a skin to prevent drying.

In drying by artificial heat, expose the food first to a gentle, then to a greater heat. This prevents the cut surfaces becoming scorched and hard, thus covering the juicy interior and preventing drying. Don't subject the food to a greater temperature than 145 degrees Fahrenheit. Get an oven thermometer to keep track of this. It is very important and must be watched closely as the temperature in a drier rises quickly.

The time required for drying varies. Some vegetables can be dried in two or three hours. Turn the food being dried several times to secure uniform dryness.

When the food is sufficiently dry it should be impossible to press water out of the freshly cut ends. It should not show any of the natural grain of the product on being broken, but it should not be dry enough to snap or crackle. It should be leathery and pliable.

Don't use a closed box. It will retain the evaporation from the food and cause mold. Certain products, especially raspberries, should not be dried hard, because if too much moisture is removed from them they will not resume their original form on being soaked in water.

On the other hand, dry the products sufficiently or they will not keep, but will mold. Don't bake it or scorch it, but dry it uniformly, through and through.

This point cannot be stressed too much.

It is advisable to "condition" practically all fruits and vegetables after they have been dried. Do this by pouring them from one box to another every day for three or four days, to give them a uniform moisture.

If the material is found to be too moist it should be returned to the drying trays for a short time.

Farewell Surprise Party

Schlange entertained about 26 of their friends at their home, 665 South Sixth street, on Thursday evening, the occasion being a farewell surprise party for Mr. and Mrs. Leo Frazer who are leaving tomorrow for the west and to be gone for some time. There was music by the Blueberry orchestra and a dainty luncheon was served and the couple were presented with some useful presents. A very pleasant evening was spent.

A Dread Ordeal.

The Rev. Mr. Inch of Dumbarton told how on one occasion in his old church in Dundee a brother minister had preached a rather long sermon, and he (Mr. Inch) had occasion a few minutes later to enter the pulpit to make an intimation, whereupon a "wee Macgregor," who was in the gallery with his mother and the rest of the family, took fright and exclaimed very loudly: "Come awa, maw. There's another man gamin' tae begin!"—Glasgow Times.

ITALY SHOWS ANGER
AT UNITED STATES

Washington, Aug. 3.—Italy is displeased with her failure to get from her allies—particularly America—supplies she says are needed and which she claims could swerve the war balance.

This displeasure apparently has caused a delicate situation, on which allied diplomats here are now laboring.

For several days the English, French and Russian ambassadors have consulted at length with the Italian envoy, evidently in an effort to assuage his feelings.

The Italian viewpoint of recent days is known to be one bordering on resentment over the fact that her plea for materials and money have gone virtually unheeded.

Meantime Italian propaganda is trying to force the United States to war on Austria and has spread the word that Italy could win the war if she had coal, munitions and money for an Austrian offensive.

Allied and American military men say, however, that Italy's situation is "impossible" from the military standpoint and aid now would be only a drain on America's resources.

The ambassadors evidently are trying to dissuade Italy from standing pat on her insistence that the United States declare war on Austria, while at the same time they are working out a solution of the supplies question.

CANADA MAY BUY ALL
DOMINION RAIL LINES

Ottawa, Aug. 3.—Plans by which the Canadian government eventually will take over all railroad systems in the Dominion were announced in parliament by Sir Thomas White, minister of finance.

At present the government proposes to acquire the Canadian Northern, which, with the International railroad, will give the Canadian people a railroad system from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

The Canadian Northern has a common share capital of $100,000,000. Of this the government owns $40,000,000, and it is proposed to purchase the remainder from private stockholders.

The transaction also involves government ownership of all subsidiaries, including steamship lines, grain elevators, terminal docks and the Mount Royal tunnel.

The finance minister said the government contemplated the acquisition of the Grand Trunk and Grand Trunk Pacific railway.

Another Loan to Belgium.

Washington, Aug. 3.—A loan of $2,500,000 was made by the United States to meet the immediate needs of the Belgian government. It was in addition to the $45,000,000 credit established some time ago under which $7,500,000 is being advanced to the little nation monthly.

The War Reviewed
in Serial Articles

BY WM. PHILIP SIMMS,

(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

With the British Armies in the Field, July 30—Today Britain is on top. At the close of the third year of the war the British bulldog is no longer on the bottom. The "zontemptible little army" which the Kaiser sneered at in 1914 has taken its medicine and, despite the hammering it has received, now has Crown Prince Rupprecht's men rather more than matched.

The first year of the fight the small new army recruited by Lord Kitchen-er to take the place of the first hundred thousand of the regular army, simply caught Hall Columbia. But though their heads were bloodied, they held their own. The second year saw more troops, more guns, more ammunition, but even as late as Loos the Prussian was too strong for the new British army, still lacking as it was in all the machinery of war.

But, at the beginning of the third year, England had caught up. For the first time since Armageddon began the British army faced the enemy on fairly equal footing. There were plenty of men and plenty of machinery and with these in hand Sir Douglas Haig, in July 1916, began the Battle of the Somme.

For two years the Prussians had been preparing the Somme positions and, at the time Sir Douglas began the great adventure, Field Marshal Hindenburg considered the line impregnable. History had never seen anything approaching it. Behind first line trenches, deep and reinforced with concrete and steel, were reserve lines just as deep and just as strong. Machine guns, in betoned emplacements fairly bristled along the fire-trenches and many more were in hidden pits further back, while every wood, and thicket had been turned into impassable entanglements made of special barbed wire as thick as a child's finger with wicked barbs every inch. Concealed turrets of armor-plate steel had been sunk in the ground at strategic points leaving only their revolving tops and gun-muzzles above the level of the earth and in between were redoubts and strong points, labyrinths, tunnels, quadrilaterals and every other device cunning Hindenburg could put into play.

The French and British struck together, the French below the Somme River, the British north of it, towards Bapaume, Comblès and Peronne. British artillery for the first time in the war showed superiority over the German and its continual roll rumbled day and night. Prussian gunmen tried to give Prussian gunners the range as they had always done in the past, but now British airmen swooped upon them like enraged hawks and drove them down, or back beyond the lines completely dominating the air. German observation balloons were sent blazing to the earth by British planes, out in sufficient numbers at last. So the enemy's guns were blind.

But the fight was anything but a walk-over for the British and French. The Germans, accustomed to winning always with every advantage on their side, could not realize that the tide had turned in this, the third year of the war, and from their miraculously strong and well-chosen positions, fought like tigers.

All through August the British Tommies kept doggedly at the enemy, bombing him, bayoneting him, driving him back inch by inch up the slopes towards Thiepval, from Mouquet Farm to Pesieres, Devil's Wood, as the South Africans called Delville Wood, was taken literally a foot at a time and held despite infernal shellfire. The British would not let go.

In September they got their reward. They had gained to the crest of the deadly ridge and then, with one swoop almost, they captured village after village—Guilleumont, Ginchy, Fiers, Martinpuich, Courcellette, Guedecourt, Lesboeufs, Morval and Thiepval.

On the 15th of this month the tanks went into action for the first time. On that day the famous official message of an airman read:

"A tank is walking up the High street of Fiers with British Army cheering behind it."

And it was a fact. A complete surprise to the Germans they crawled over trenches and trees, shell-craters and the walls of ruined villages starting hundreds of the enemy into surrender all by themselves.

Comblès was abandoned by the Germans during September, the British entering before daylight from the north, the French from the south, the two allies meeting in the center of the town and shaking hands. This was the first town of the war to be given up without a fight, owing to Franco-British pressure.

During October, in the drizzle, the British took Eaucourt l'Abbaye and Le Sars. November was wet and soggy and during the short lull which came in the fighting about this time, the Germans boasted that the British army had spent itself and was no longer dangerous. The reply was one of the most brilliant victories of the war, the capture of Beaumont Hamel, one of the solidest of Hindenburg's strong points, along with Beaucourt, St. Pierre-Divion and 7,000 prisoners.

Besides these and other towns and villages taken by the British, had fallen an incredible number of positions the capture of any one of which in previous wars would have made a general's reputation. During the first five months of Somme fighting fell the Windmill beyond Pozieres, Mouquet Farm, Stuff and Schwaben Redoubts, the Quadrilateral north of Fiers, the other one near High Wood, High Wood itself, Mametz Wood and Fricourt, Delville, Angle, Wedge, Acid Drop, Arrow Head and other woods and strong points, all interlocking and making their capture the harder because each was supported by the rest. All of Britain's children did well, the Canadians at Courcellette, Australians at Pozieres, New Zealanders around Fiers, New Foundlanders near Thiepval, South Africans at Delville Wood, Irish at Guilleumont, Welsh at Mametz, Scots at Longueval and Beaumont Hamel where the soldiers fought to the pipes playing "Stop Your Tickling Jack."

The Germans threw into the Somme battles 97 Divisions, all different, but as some of these went in twice or three times the equivalent of 140 Divisions were used against the British and French. The losses averaged about 45 per cent killed, wounded and prisoners, or about 750,000,000. French and British together took over 80,000 prisoners, the British share of the booty being 29 heavy guns and howitzers, 96 field guns, 136 trench mortars and 514 machine guns, plus stores of all kinds.

As 1917 advanced the British kept pounding away at the Prussians. In February and March, unable to stick it out under the everlasting hammering, the Kaiser's men fell back, abandoning Bapaume, Peronne and surrounding country. The German high command had previously prepared what is known as the Hindenburg Line, Arras to Craonne, via St. Quentin and counted upon that to hold.

But on April 9th, by a marvelously rapid manoeuvre, Sir Douglas, now Field Marshal Haig, struck at the Arras pivot and broke it, driving in the German line to the "switch" position between Lens and Quent. So was the spring offensive launched, the first few days netting the British 19,343 prisoners, 257 guns and howitzers, 227 trench mortars and 470 machine guns in addition to many which were destroyed.

Thus the third year of the war has seen the British get the upper hand. They do not claim that Prussia's power is broken, but they do claim to have taken the enemy's measure, won the initiative and made a telling punch for victory.

WAR WAGED BY WHOLE NATION

The point has been reached where war is waged literally by whole nations. Every man, woman, and child is involved and nearly every adult and most boys and girls can be efficient factors. We are in this war for the purpose of defending our rights, of making sure that, as a Nation, we shall be able to live the sort of life and to have the sort of institutions we desire, of making democracy persist in the world, and of safeguarding the world against the recurrence of such a war as this. To accomplish this the Nation must aim at the perfection of organization, and therefore each individual must recognize the necessity of making sacrifices for the common good and more than ever of working under limitations, and they will not fail in the task they have assumed. Our fathers, on whom a great responsibility rests, are the most efficient farmers in the world when they do their best. They will not be found wanting in this crisis.

D. F. HOUSTON,
Secretary of Agriculture.

Opportunities For Older Men

Because of the war many positions formerly filled by young men are open to older men. The Red-Headed Woodpecker

(By William Lloyd Christ)

Are you aware that there are over twenty-five varieties of woodpeckers? The Red-headed species is very common in all states east of the Rockies, and is found quite often as far west as Arizona and as far south as Texas. He has a bright red head, neck and breast, glossy blue-black back and tail, the remainder being white. He nests in all kinds of trees, fence posts, telegraph or telephone poles, and sometimes under eaves of houses and barns. They lay from four to eight pure white eggs. They are known as the most pugnacious of the woodpecker family, often chasing one another or other birds. Their worst trait is the destroying of the eggs and young of other birds.

He is a carpenter in every sense of the word, and with his hard, ivory bill, which he uses as hammer, trowel and chisel, he is able to cut a hole, and soon has chiseled himself out a neat home. Moreover, he carries with him his own scaffold, the ends of his tail feathers being so sharp that he sticks these sharp points in the wood beneath his feet, and while so braced, cuts away at the piece of timber he has chosen for his home. He is a very independent creature, and does not need much assistance from man.

To offset his mean habits, he feeds upon larvae of insects, insects and grubs. The giant borer and other borers that destroy trees is the choicest bit of dessert for him. For twenty-five days his children must be fed at least seventy-five times a day, and that food composed wholly of insects and insect larvae. Were it not for him, many of our most beautiful shade and fruit trees would be dead. Why not cater to his comfort?

Is there anything more interesting or as cute in nature study than the black head of the young woodpecker? His head does not turn red until he is more than a year old.

If you want him near you to assist you in destroying only insects that are a hurt to your trees and shrubbery, go to the woods, get a partly decayed piece of wood (with the bark on if possible), five feet long, ten inches in diameter and nail it to a branch of some tree, twenty feet from the ground. You need not fear the English sparrow building therein, for the woodpecker will not allow him to do so.

The woodpecker is the hardest working bird of the feathered kingdom, and the greatest architects in existence.

Are You Lucky?

In August the air is full of pollen and dust that cause trouble for some, yet others are never bothered. No remedy does more to relieve hay fever and asthma than Foley's Honey and Tar Compound for coughs, colds and croup. It clears and soothes the afflicted nose, throat and bronchial tubes. H. P. Dunn, druggist.—Adv.

A pinch of sugar dropped into the tea when it is set to steep will cause the leaves to open in about half the time usually required for steeping.

OPSAHL LANDS A $2,400 JOB

Made Assistant to the State Board of Immigration Commissioner, Succeeding John Kienitz

FRED D. SHERMAN RE-ELECTED

The Merging of the Oil Inspection Department With Dairy and Food Reason of Change

The information given by The Dispatch some days ago regarding the rumor that A. M. Opsahl of this city would be appointed assistant to the immigration commissioner by Gov. Burnquist has been carried out and yesterday the state board of immigration at its meeting completed the program by electing him to the position at a salary of $2,400 a year. He succeeds Joan E. Kienitz, of Cambridge, who was voted a month's pay with a leave of absence for the month.

Fred D. Sherman was re-elected immigration agent at a salary of $2,000 and his retention was owing to his good work during the past term of his office.

Mr. Opsahl's appointment followed the merging of the state oil inspection with the dairy and food department which left him without an office after August 1st, and the place was opened to him.

RED CROSS NEEDS

20 Motor Truck Drivers, 20 Helpers, 10 Expert Mechanics Needed at Once

Twenty experienced motor truck drivers, twenty helpers and ten expert mechanics are needed at once by the American Red Cross for service in France, according to a cable request just received by the Red Cross War Council from Major Grayson M. P. Murphy in charge of the Red Cross mission to France.

The mechanical squad will include master carpenters, body builders, painters, machinists and electricians—two each. The truck for which drivers are sought are of two-ton capacity and will be used in the rapid transfer of Red Cross supplies from seaports to their destinations, a service made necessary by the congested condition of the railroads in France.

Volunteers beyond military age have been asked for this service by the American Red Cross to work with out compensation and Red Cross officials are hopeful that employers of motor drivers and the other expert help required will contribute the services of the men, paying their salaries while in Red Cross service.

The Red Cross will pay the transportation and living expenses of the men while abroad. It is the intention when the men are recruited to give them intensive mechanical training, some of it and if possible some preliminary instruction in the French language.

This contribution to the American Red Cross by employers of skilled labor would be similar to the contributions of large organizations to the Red Cross staff at headquarters which includes nearly seventy-five volunteers, many of whom are paid by outside organizations while working for the Red Cross.

Offers of assistance along the line of these Red Cross needs should be made to A. W. Staub, director of the Atlantic Division of the American Red Cross, Metropolitan Tower, New York City, or to the nearest Red Cross chapter.

UNION PICNIC

Norwegian-Danish Lutheran and the South Long Lake Churches Sunday Schools to Picnic

Sunday schools of the Norwegian-Danish Lutheran church of Brainerd and the South Long Lake church will picnic Sunday, August 5, at South Long Lake. Union services will be held in the grove near the creamery one mile southeast of the church.

Sunday school children and others who intend to go will meet at the parsonage in Brainerd at 9 o'clock. Coffee and cream will be served by the Ladies' Aid of the South Long Lake church. All are asked to come and help the children celebrate.

SPRING WATER RATES

Owing to the increase in labor and other commodities, the price of spring water will be increased 50 cents per month commencing August 1st.

SAW THE ROSY WEST

Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Pearce Return From Enjoyable Trip to Washington and California

Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Pearce have returned from a western trip of seven weeks, every minute of which was filled with shifting scenery of the greatest beauty, of meetings with relatives and old friends, of views of mountains and sea.

In Portland they were guests of their son-in-law and family, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Canfield. They motored on the "Columbian Highway."

In California they visited Willows, and saw the big berry farms in that vicinity; saw Santa Rosa, and at Sebastopol visited a sister of Mrs. Pearce she had not seen in 34 years. At Sebastopol Mrs. Dunn, sister of Mrs. Pearce, has 25 pickers and berries are measured by the ton, twenty-eight tons being picked while Mr. and Mrs. Pearce were there.

In San Francisco they visited W. W. Johnson, an auditor in federal employ. Mr. Johnson formerly lived in Brainerd and married here Miss Ethel Michie.

On a Sunday they motored 250 miles, not a stone in the highway, all roads being asphalt. They saw the wonderfully picturesque Stanford University.

They were at Long Beach, Venice, Santa Monica, Sunset and other great beaches of California. At Los Angeles they visited Mrs. Pearce's sister, Mrs. Bessie Jackson. They also saw Fred Hoffman, formerly of Brainerd.

The trip out was made by Northwestern Pacific, the return home by Santa Fe, Northwestern and Burlington. At Omaha, Neb., they visited Mr. Pearce's brother, H. A. Pearce, who is register of deeds there. Barnum & Bailey's circus exhibited in Omaha at the time and the parade was two miles long.

2 IMPORTANT CASES HERE

Koochiching County Probe Cases to Crow Wing County August 13 on Change of Venue

LATER WALKER-AKLEY CASE

Accounting in Partnership Matters Pressed by Mrs. Quirk, Daughter of Mr. Akley

Judge W. S. McClenahan will preside at the August 13 adjourned term of the district court. The Koochiching county probe cases, taken to Crow Wing county on a change of venue, are expected to last several weeks.

Later Judge McClenahan will hear in chambers further testimony in the Walker-Akeley case, wherein Mrs. Quirk, daughter of the late Mr. Akeley, seeks an accounting of partnership matters covering the last thirty years.

The testimony is of a most voluminous nature and the Brainerd session follows an extended hearing in the Twin Cities, where Judge McClenahan also presided.

DON'T OVERFILL YOUR BATTERY

Overfilling is as Bad as Not Filling it at all, Said George Johnson

"Overfilling your battery with water is as bad as not filling it at all," says George Johnson, the Willard expert. "When the cells are too full, rough riding or the rapid charging of the battery which comes from long sustained or rapid driving, forces the electrolyte to overflow and run into the bottom of the battery box. And it is only a short time before the acid electrolyte has eaten out the bottom of the box."

"The motorist should keep in mind the fact that although it is pure distilled water he puts into the cells, it is not water but diluted acid that overflows, and this acid corrodes either a wooden or a steel battery box."

In filling the battery, cover the top of the plates with about 1/2 inches of water. More than this is unnecessary. And this depth of water will allow for the movement of electrolyte caused by rough driving or by rapid charging."

LIGHT FROST

Less Than Week Sees Switch From 102 to 34 at Brainerd Thursday Night

The significance of Northern lights July 28, day when 102 was recorded in Brainerd, became apparent last night when government thermometer touched 34 minimum. Light frosts are reported in Crow Wing county with no crop damage.

K. C. MILLION DOLLAR WAR FUND

Being Raised by Assessment of $2 on the Membership and by Voluntary Donations

FOR BENEFIT OF THE SOLDIERS

To Erect a Permanent Building at Fort Snelling, Brainerd Assessment Totals $400

The Knights of Columbus are raising a million dollar war fund to be used in establishing headquarters at the various army fronts.

At Fort Snelling a permanent building is to be erected.

Members of the order have been assessed $2 each and the balance will be raised by subscription. The assessment on the entire membership will yield $600,000.

There are 200 members in Brainerd who will pay $400 and the balance of the quota, $300, it is expected to raise by subscription.

KENTUCKY VISITORS

Brainerd Lemon and Party Leisured Touring to Brainerd From the Blue Grass Country

Motoring from Louisville, Kentucky and arriving in Brainerd today were Mr. and Mrs. Brainerd Lemon, Miss Elizabeth Vogt and H. F. Miles. The route traveled was from Louisville to Chicago, thence on the Sheridan road to Milwaukee, Wis., La Crosse to Minneapolis, Jefferson highway to Little Falls and thence to Brainerd.

They are on their way to Fargo, N. D., and will then swing home. They may go to Winnipeg, Canada. They are driving a Hupmobile 32 and have had no trouble, tire or engine, on the trip.

The whole party has been fishing at White Fish lake and acquired a fine coating of tan. For the road to Fargo Mr. Miles was introduced to M. J. Reis who lately visited his brother in Fargo and described in detail to him the road. Mr. Reis easily drove to Fargo, 160 miles, in a day.

ROLL OF HONOR

Howard Mahlum, son of City Clerk and Mrs. Anton Mahlum, today left for Duluth to join the 10th Regiment of Engineers of the U. S. A. He passed the recent examinations. Friends are assured he will be successful as he has a university education in forestry and all he needs is half a chance to make good. He enlisted with Corporal Raymond Lowery at Brainerd.

John Mahlum has returned from St. Paul where he passed the physical examination, first step in his desire to enter the second officers training camp.

Dr. P. E. Kenyon of Wadena, well known to Brainerd doctors, goes to Fort Riley, Kansas, in Uncle Sam's service. Ed Lovdahl of Crosby, an old friend of the doctor, who has two sons in the navy, went to St. Paul today to bid goodbye to the doctor.

MUNICIPAL COURT

Quiet Day, One Individual up for Being Too Bibulous, Is Sentenced

It was quiet in municipal court, Judge Walter F. Wieland having but one case on the docket, a man charged with being bibulous. He was Tony Dower, a transient, and he drew $10 or 15 days.

Finger and Toe Nails

Finger nails and toenails are only another phase of the development of man from the animal that originally walked on four feet. Animals that walk on all fours use the finger and toe coverings, which in man is the nail, to scratch in the ground, to attack enemies and to climb with, and our nails of the present day are what the development of man into a civilized being has changed them to. At that there are still uses for finger nails and toenails, or man in his changing to a higher plane would have found a way to develop away from them, says the "Book of Wonders." They are useful today in making our fingers and toes firm at the end and enable us to pick up things more easily. The time may come when man will have neither finger nails nor toenails.

Will Never Be Without It

No other cough medicine "reaches the spot," heals, soothes and relieves irritating, hacking coughs like Foley's Honey and Tar. Mrs. John Bourneville, Brussels, Wis., writes: "I've been using Foley's Honey and Tar Compound for years and recommend it for children. I will never be without it in the house." H. P. Dunn, druggist.—Adv.

SAVE YOUR MAGAZINES

And Send Them to the "Sammies" at the Front at an Expense of But One Cent

Local people who wish to send magazines to American soldiers in France can do so for one cent each. The local postoffice has received notice to accept such publications upon which are printed the official notice signed by Postmaster General Burleson and which have one cent stamp pasted upon them. The notice is as follows.

NOTICE TO READER

When you finish reading this magazine place a one cent stamp on this notice and hand the magazine to a postal employee. It will be placed in the hands of our soldiers at the front.

The sender may not bother about any address or wrapping. Stick a one cent stamp on your old magazine and turn it over to the postoffice. Some Sammy will pass a happy hour with the magazine in a short time.

Pray and Pay

BY J. H. WARNER.

I used to lay me down to sleep And pray the Lord my soul to keep; And every day by prayer I tried To have my every want supplied. I'd ask God for a farm, a cow, A horse, a harness, or a plow, I'd ask Him for a rain or snow, And not to let the cyclones blow.

And I would promise to be good, If He would send me coal and wood. There was no harm that I could see In giving a good farm to me. My praying didn't seem to bring A single solitary thing. I couldn't make it rain or snow; The storms and cyclones, too, would blow.

In church I heard the preachers say: "All things will come to them that pray." But I found out I had to work And toil and sweat and never shrink, And never stop to rest or play. (Hardly take the time to pray) For just about ten years, 'twould seem To get enough to buy a team.

And when I for my team did pray, I had to work for feed and hay. And now when I lie down to sleep At night, I think of shearing sheep, Of cutting grain, or plowing corn, And work I have to do next morn. I think about the fields to mow, I think about the bills I owe.

The man who takes his pay in prayers Is not in business anywhere. And for the fodder and the hush I eat, I have to pay the cash. I am so busy all the day, At night I am too tired to pray. Too tired when I lie down to sleep To pray the Lord my soul to keep.

Some people may succeed somewhere In getting property by prayer, And some by praying to the Lord May get a touring car, or Ford. But it is best for any man To purchase one when e'er he can, And pay for it, as well as pray, And answer his own prayer that way.

BARROWS ITEMS

The J. E. Barr Pickling & Preserving Co. of St. Cloud, have completed the erection of the pickle salting station south of the track near the depot. A carload of barrels and a sorting machine has been received and several more cars of barrels and kegs will arrive shortly and the company expects to be ready to receive pickles within the next few days.

HOW TO TELL THE RANK OF AN AMERICAN ARMY OFFICER
 (By United Press)
 Washington, Aug. 3—You can tell the rank of an American army officer by knowing that:
 A second lieutenant has an epaulette with no bar.
 A first lieutenant has an epaulette with one white bar.
 A captain has an epaulette with two white bars.
 A major has an epaulette with a gold maple leaf thereon.
 A lieutenant colonel has an epaulette with a silver maple leaf.
 A colonel has an epaulette with a silver spread eagle thereon.
 A brigadier general has an epaulette with two silver stars.
 A lieutenant general has an epaulette with three silver stars.
 A general is exceedingly rare.
 Thus far in our history there have been only two. They were Washington and Grant.

CADETS OF CHAPULTEPEC.

Heroism of Gallant Little Band of Mexican Schoolboys.

The defense of Chapultepec during the war between the United States and Mexico in 1847 was almost as gallant as was the attack. In this attack forty-eight Mexican cadets, among others, lost their lives. The story is a stirring one.

For many years the celebrated castle of Chapultepec, where Montezuma held his barbaric court in the surrounding groves of cypress, where during nearly three centuries lived the successive viceroys of Spain and where Maximilian made his imperial home, has been the West Point of Mexico.

When General Scott had taken the place by storm and General Bravo had surrendered, a Mexican cadet only fifteen years old, seeing the flag of his country in peril, most of his comrades being already slain, climbed the flagstaff, tore the banner from its place, wound it around his body and slid down, intending to plunge over the precipice in order to save the colors from falling into the hands of the enemy.

That act of heroism being frustrated, the brave boy, with the banner still wrapped about him, fought until he was cut to pieces. Forty-eight of these schoolboys, ranging in age from fourteen to twenty years, lie buried in one grave at the foot of the hill. Year after year the cadets of Chapultepec strew flowers upon the grave.—Los Angeles Times.

Two Folk Songs.

America is proud in the possession of not a few composers of note.

Their beautiful compositions have saved the United States from being placed completely in the shade by the foreign composers and makes this nation a musical factor which cannot now be omitted from any reckoning. All these are important in the history and development of American music in its higher and newer forms.

But for the simple, heartfelt folk tunes, the most typical examples of folk song that America has thus far nourished, we must turn to those of Stephen C. Foster and award the palm to his "Swanee River" and "My Old Kentucky Home."—Philadelphia Record.

He Felt Like Ninety

Nothing makes a person feel old quicker than disordered kidneys. They cause aches and pains all over the body. A. W. Morgan, Angola, La., writes, "Oh, I suffered with pain in my back. I am 43 years old, but I felt like a man 90 years old. Since I took Foley's Kidney Pills I feel like I did when I was 21." H. P. Dunn, druggist.—Adv.

POLICE UNABLE TO LOCATE MEN

Lynchers of I. W. W. Leader at Butte Evade Arrest.

CITY COUNCIL OFFERS REWARD

More Violence Is Feared, as Victim's Friends Express Their Determination to Avenge Crime—Attorney General Arrives to Conduct Thorough Investigation.

Butte, Mont., Aug. 3.—Butte faced a period of uncertainties and possible violence again as the result of the lynching of Frank Little, I. W. W. leader, Wednesday morning.

Although the first excitement had apparently died away it was supplanted by a determined purpose on the part of Little's friends to avenge the crime.

Soldiers remained on guard, as did several hundred special officers who were sworn in late Wednesday.

Offer of a reward of $1,000 by the Butte city council, efforts of a score of detectives, aided by the county and mine forces, failed to develop evidence tending to identify the band of seven lynching Little.

Announcement that five members of the gang were known to the miners here was proved false when the attorney for the union admitted there was no positive evidence to back the assertion.

Telegrams from every part of the country demanding that the lynchings be brought to justice and an end put to lawlessness poured into the city.

Among these was a telegram from Miss Jeannette Rankin, Montana's representative in congress, deploring the incident.

Attorney General Ford arrived here as personal representative of Governor Stewart and assigned to conduct a thorough investigation of affairs.

Infant Crushed to Death

Killed in Mother's Arms When Motorcycle Overturns.

St. Paul, Aug. 3.—Helen, fourteen months-old daughter of Mrs. John Kostones, Minneapolis, was killed, the mother was seriously injured and two other daughters and two men escaped injury by a miracle when a motorcycle with side car attachment, on which they were riding, struck the curb and overturned.

John Peters was driving the motorcycle and on the rumble seat behind him was James Cashoncz, Mrs. Kostones, the baby and two daughters, Angeline, three years old, and Ellen four, were in the side car.

With the baby in her arms Mrs. Kostones was tossed against the curb and the infant was crushed to death at her breast. Mrs. Kostones suffered three fractured ribs on the right side and a broken collar bone.

Men Are Named in Bill

Food Commission Measure in New York Creates Surprise.

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 3.—Theodore Roosevelt, James W. Wadsworth of Livingston county, a Republican and father of United States Senator Wadsworth, and Morgan J. O'Brien of New York, Democratic vice president of the last constitutional convention, are named as the proposed state food commission in a bill introduced at a special session of the legislature.

The legislative war committee virtually threw a bombshell into state politics when it named the proposed food commissioners in its measure.

Governor Whitman, who had called the legislature into extraordinary session to enact food legislation, had intimated that he would like to name the commission and George W. Perkins would be the chairman.

Heat Wave in East Ended by Showers

New York, Aug. 3.—Thunder showers and cooling breezes brought relief from the paralyzing heat of the last four days, too late, however, to avert another long list of deaths. The board of health announced that sixty-seven persons died, victims of heat.

Dr. Charles F. Boldaun, director of public health education, declared that most of the 878 deaths in the city were caused by the high temperature.

In addition to the heat victims in New York, Jersey City reported twelve deaths, Hoboken five and Jamaica three.

Scores of factories and business houses again virtually suspended operations.

Four Killed at Crossing.

Kewanee, Ill., Aug. 3.—Mrs. Hilda Boquist and four-year-old son of Rock Island and the Misses Edna and Hazel Larson of Alton were killed near Alton, Ill., when a freight train demolished the automobile in which they were riding on a crossing. Two other persons were severely injured.

GERMAN DEFEAT ONLY AIM

United States Has No Other Object in World War.

Washington, Aug. 3.—"The United States is in the war to whip Germany. It has entered into no other discussion with the allied nations respecting their war aims."

This statement was made on the highest official authority.

Officials refuse to give any information on the peace terms that would be acceptable to the United States and decline to state the attitude of America toward the various territorial changes that are the subject of conversations between the entente governments.

The statement that this country is in the war to defeat Germany was made in response to an inquiry concerning the view taken by the United States of the Italian claims of Austrian territory.

British Pour in Merciless Fire

Artillery and Infantry Disperse German Attacks.

London, Aug. 3.—While the rain and the mists have held the entente allied forces in leash, preventing a resumption of the great offensive of Tuesday, they have not kept the Germans from throwing counter attacks with large forces against several newly lost sectors or brought about a cessation of the violent artillery duel along the entire line.

Crown Prince Rupprecht evidently considers the British gain northeast of Ypres the most important made in Tuesday's battle, for on this territory he concentrated the strongest of his counter offensive operations.

His efforts, however, have gone for naught, the British artillery and infantry fire raking the advancing forces mercilessly, putting an end to the attacks and adding materially to the already heavy casualties the Germans have suffered.

It is possible that at least a day of warm sunshine will be necessary to dissipate the quagmire so that the big allied guns may be realigned and to permit the armor to find the positions the enemy is holding.

Although the Teutonic allies still are advancing against the Russians in East Galicia, Bukovina and along the Moldavian frontier the allied offensive on the Western front apparently is on the nerves of the German emperor.

German Holdings Menaced.

It is assumed that a war council of the high military and naval leaders in Germany called by Emperor William to meet in Brussels had as its objective an analytical survey of the offensive, which, if carried out as planned by the allies, would menace the German holdings in Belgium, and especially along the coast.

Daily the situation of the Russians on the Eastern front grows increasingly acute.

Across the Zbrocz river in Russia to the south of the Dniester and Pruth rivers, in Bukovina and in the Carpathian region bordering Roumania the Russians are falling back.

So far have the operations of the Teutonic allies been advanced in Bukovina that seemingly the little Austrian crown land soon again will be returned to the Austrians.

Numerous additional towns and vantage points have been captured by the Teutons.

Berlin asserts that from the Pruth to the eastern foothills of the Keleman mountains, a distance of approximately a hundred miles, the Russians are steadily giving ground.
